Magnuson Urges New TV Politics Ground Rules

WASHINGTON (P) -Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) said Friday the next Congress will consider "drastic legislation" governing television time for political candidates unless the networks write new "ground rules."

He told Robert Kintner, president of the American Broadcasting Co., he hopes the networks determine-without legislation-how both parties can receive equal chances this fall to use television.

As matters stand, he said during a hearing of the Senate Com-Committee, candidates with the most money often have the best chance to win. Magnuson is committee chairman.

"You have put your finger on the reason we don't do it," retorted Kintner.

In his general testimony, Kintner's central theme was that any "monopoly" that exists in the network field can be broken by simply permitting more stations to operate.

Thus, he held, there would be no need of government regulation of networks, such as has been proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). At present only individual protection, when it was feared that stations are subject to regulation by the Federal Communications

Milestone Is Passed By Ike

Still No Word On 2nd Term Planning

WASHINGTON (A) -President Eisenhower's doctors announced Friday he had passed another milestone on the recovery road, but there was still no word whether he would go through with his drive for a second term.

A medical bulletin announced that "normal physiological activity of the intestinal tract" had been restored, six days after he underwent an emergency abdominal operation.

This news from Walter Reed Army Hospital was coupled with word that it had not been necessary to feed the President intravenously since last evening. Friday he was sipping two ounces of warm liquids —such as beef broth and tea—from a cup every hour.

Music Eisenhower also listened to radio music for the first time since his illness. It was piped in into his hospital room by a Washington station. The selections included several of his requests. Among them: Strauss Viennese waltzes, Mendelssohn symphonies, and U.S. Army band renditions of John Philip Sousa marches.

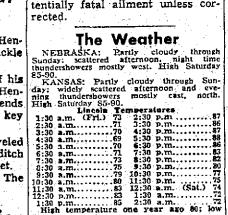

On the business side, the President conferred for 15 minutes with his chief aid, Sherman Adams, and signed a total of 21 documents. He also did some reading from two news magazines—Time and Newsweek-both of which deal at length with his illness.

And he arranged to confer at President Nixon and Secretary of remarks of Mayor Clark Jeary. State Dulles. The President saw Dulles briefly Thursday. The Monday session will be his first with the building for the last 10 years, Nixon since being hospitalized.

Unanswered

The big question - whether Eisenhower will continue in the presidential race despite this second major illness in nine months still went unanswered. The President will have an opportunity to talk to Nixon about that Monday, but there was no advance indication whether he would do so.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the doctors' announcement regarding restoration of intestinal acitvity meant that Eisenhower's physiological digestive process were operating normally for the first time since he underwent major surgery early last Saturday. He was operated on for relief of a partial obstruction of the small intestine, described by the physicians as a potentially fatal ailment unless cor-

Dyke emphasized that June 30 was the deadline for entering the acreage reserve protion of the soil bank with the current wheat crop, providing the farmer is within his original wheat allotment.

The conservation reserve portion Fe operations office, which conof the soil bank, calling for the trols both Los Alamos and Sandia setting aside of a specific plot of land for various forms of conservation on the basis of a long-term contract with a matching payment for the cost of the practice, will not be ready in detail for at least two weeks, Dyke said.

The majority of the conference in which Dyke participated was spent in explaining the many details of the soil bank and the forms necessary for the individual farmer when he enters the program. Details have been announced for the "acreage reserve" portion of the sail bank and not, as yet, on the "conservation reserve." To be eligible for the acreage reserve, a farmer must first comply with his allotments on all controlled crops. These allotments have been raised by approximately 18 per cent. The land used for the 'reserve" must also be representative of land used for the crop and must not be grazed, cut or cropped during 1956. Payments a farmer will receive will be determined by multiplying a base unit rate-90 cents a bushel on corn and $1.25 a bushel for wheat-times a yield factor, set according to an average for a given number of production years.

For underplanting winter wheat of 1956, because of adverse weather, the payment will be $4 per acre. For destruction due to natural causes or plowing under, payment will be the smaller of either the appraised yield for the field or the normal yield for the farm, but in no case will it be less than $6 per acre.

June 30 is the deadline for entry into the soil bank with wheat,

Bitter Foreign Aid Fight Looms

...On Floor Of The Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)-The Senate Foreign Relations Comittee boosted the administration's foreign aid bill to $4,502,600,000 Friday in the face of prospects for a long and bitter row on the senate floor.

It added 100 million dollars in restoring the remaining half of a Congress authorized last year, but which the House voted to repeal.

This was in the morning session. In an afternoon meeting the committee made cuts totaling $12,-400,000 in sections dealing with technical phases of the program.

... Tito Trip Eyed

By JOHN M, HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (*) - The United States was reported to have asked Yugoslavia Friday to ciarify where it stands as between Russia and the Western powers.

The request was made in the light of statements made by Marshal Tito on his current good will visit to the Soviet Union.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy summoned Am-bassador Leo Mates to the State Department and talked with him for 40 minutes Friday. After the conference neither State Department spokesmen nor Mates would disclose the subject of the meeting.

However, it was understood on excellent authority that Murphy had expressed concern over the implications of comments made by Tito in Russia.

Close Ties

On the surface at least, Tito has seemed to be restoring very close ties with the Soviet Union since Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev visited Belgrade more than a year ago.

The burden of Tito's recent comments in Russia has been that friendly relations with the Soviets were now fully restored. Conferees Reach Tentative Accord On All But I Road Bill Point

New Session Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON (P)-Senate-House conferees said Friday night after a marathon session that they have reached tentative agreements on all points in the highway bill except one, but they withheld any details.

The conferees worked until 10:45 p.m. on the huge road-building measure in their third session of the day.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), heading the Senate session, announced there would be another session Wednesday to try to complete work on the construction features of the

The one point on which agreement was not reached was whether to add an additional 2,500 miles to the blue ribbon interstate system of super highways.

Try Compose

The Senate had voted for this addition, but the House had decided the 40,000-mile interstate network should not be increased at this time. Gore said "we shall try to compose our differences" on the 2,500mile question Wednesday, when the conferees will finalize language covering their points of agreement. The conferees Thursday reached agreement on the biggest point of controversy - how to divide up among the states the 25 billion dollars in federal funds for the interstate road network. This decision - not announced formally but confirmed by several sources - was to adopt for the first three years of the 13-year construction program the apportionment formula in the Senate

Conferees Reach Tentative Accord On All But 1 Road Bill Point

New Session Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON (A)-Senate-House conferees said Friday night after a marathon session that they have reached tentative agreements on all points in the highway bill except one, but they withheld any details.

The conferees worked until 10:45 p.m. on the huge road-building measure in their third session of the day.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), heading the Senate session, announced there would be another session Wednesday to try to complete work on the construction features of the

The one point on which agreement was not reached was whether to add an additional 2,500 miles to the blue ribbon interstate system of super highways.

Try Compose The Senate had voted for this addition, but the House had decided the 40,000-mile interstate network should not be increased at this time.

Gore said "we shall try to compose our differences" on the 2,500mile question Wednesday, when the conferees will finalize language covering their points of agreement.

The conferees Thursday reached agreement on the biggest point of controversy - how to divide up among the states the 25 billion dollars in federal funds for the interstate road network.

This decision - not announced formally but confirmed by several sources - was to adopt for the first three years of the 13-year construction program the apportionment formula in the Senate

This gives two-third weight to population and one-sixth each to area and rural road mileage of the

Again several hundred young Nebraskans will have had the heady experience of running a youthful replica of the political structure that rung the public affairs of Nebraska. They have elected their governor, introduced and passed legislation, and in their way, by the matters they discussed, they have told the state that which is uppermost in the minds of youththat which is important to the estate of youth.

The proceedings of the youthful Legislature will not take on the force of law. The pay-off is in other coin. To the young participants, the exhilarating experience will be long remem-

The sessions of the 1956 Boys' State and Girls' bered, the practical knowledge gain immeasurable To the rest of Nebraska, it marked a piece of alchemy in the mass production of first-class citizens. A great many of tomorrow's lawmakers, public administrators and high officials will emerge from such groups.

It was fun. There was a party. Young people like to mingle, too-boys and girls together. But it was in keeping. Good citizenship is not dull and distasteful. Nothing worthwhile is, that is interesting, and citizenship is interesting. That is perhaps the most important discovery these young people will take back home. And the germ of that is what democracy needs. For that alone the entire task of staging Boys' State and Girl's State was eminently worth the effort.

gress and key members of Ike's team, we assume, know the full facts in connection with this mounting controversy over foreign aid

Certainly the American people are in no position to know whether the President is right in pleading from a hospital room for restoration of the foreign aid money, or on the contrary, if Congress should have a pat on the back for a mounting rebellion against unnecessary White House spending for foreign aid.

There is a lot of money involved even in this age of astronomical budgets. Originally the President's request was for just short of $5

The House, rising up in rebeilion with the members of the President's own party providing the chief drive, had cut this $1,200,000,000 Then the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, ear trained upon a plea from the President's sick bed, voted to restore $600 millions which the House had refused.

Part of this confusion could be attributed to politics. The chairman of the Republican National Committee, Len Hall, has seized upon a money needs.

then the requirements of foreign aid should not be so heavy, perhaps. Neither Mr. Hall nor Republican leadership can expect to have it both ways for any considerable period of time.

the money needed for foreign aid, the public reasons, should diminish. We doubt that any considerable portion of the voters are ready to accept a substantial foreign aid program runit was the Republicans who deserted the Presiown party. If the Senate Foreign Affairs Comitself, then the battle goes to Congress, with House and Senate attempting to compose their differences. Mr. Eisenhower has succeeded in maintaining a remote association with the foreign aid program. Now he finds it his baby and he will have to take full responsibility for its

It Doesn't Make Sense

This week the Dawson County REA reached into its reserves to make a $250,000 short term loan to the Central Public Power and Irrigation District-an example of what several other Nebraska Rurals are doing or preparing to do.

Of Men And Things

Any farming region of necessity lives, thinks, and plans fundamentally, and especially is this evident from the heginning of the growing season in early spring until autumn harvest. The soil is here . . . the sun is here . . . What a rural people were thinking of, then, and talking and writing about was the third and perhaps most vital of the growing ingredients . . .

An admirable midwestern quality has always been the sustaining ability to grin and inject a note of humor into discussion, even when worry rides heavy on the shoulders. This might be noted in the rumor relayed by the Polk Progress that the beavers have been tearing out their dams around St. Paul . . . sup-Cash Box posedly a sign of a wet summer . . . or it may mean that it will be wet just around St. Paul. The Progress did observe on its own, however, what it thought to be a fairly accurate economic indication . . . "One farmer we know has a new fishing tackle box. We admired the strong sturdy box and asked him where he got it. He said it used to be his cash box, but he didn't have much use for a cash box anymore. We told him to send it with our compliments to Secretary Benson" . . . The Table Rock Argus has viewed promising clouds that have approached and passed over that community in the past couple of weks, and thinks perhaps "rain-gauge-wise we must be the driest community in the state" In fact, if all the drops of rain that have descended upon them in that period of time were laid end to end, "they wouldn't make a very big puddle of water."

Use For Empty

Meantime, water or no water, that blessed season known as the harvest was just around the corner. One or two of the early birds had brought wheat to market—the new crop—always clothed in expectancy- which is to say our gal, Miss Harvest, was beautiful in a robe of hope. We are hopin' that the robe wears well.

A bit of surprising human nature came to light in comparative statistics in Holdrege water management. Water Commissioner Art Bendler checked figures of last year when the system of alternate rationing nights was used . . .

Gittin' While The Gittin's Good

found, amazingly, that when announcement was made of dropping restrictions, use fell off 20 per cent . . . Mr. Bendler explained it: "Guess what it proves is that when people knew they could water only on certain days, they made sure to get it done. When they could water any time, they just put it off" . . . A skeptical Hamilton Countian, out where deep-well irrigation is reaching new peaks each year, had doubts that a set of figures issued by experts could be anywhere near a point of accuracy . . . so sat down and calculated to his own satisfaction, and in the doing, out-calculated the experts . . . He had received a statement that farmers use 5,600 gallons of water to produce an average bushel of corn. Deciding that this must be a gross overstatement, he and a friend figured it out, and, using a basis of 100-bushel yield and an estimated average rainfall plus irrigation, their final figure was 6,534 gallons to the bushel. Breaking it down a bit further, it takes about six minutes of pumping to make a bushel of corn, and it takes nearly a barrel of water to the ear. "Looking this over," he marveled, "we figure we're teasing our lawns with a garden hose." And that Hamiltonian can rejoice in a rapid spread of well irrigation-more than 500 in 2 years.

Still heading the list of best news for western Nebraska, says the Chappell Register, is rain, Devel County has been one of the lucky spots this year to receive enough moisture before it was see late. This has not always been so. On the other hand, recalled the story, one summer during the war years, it took five weeks to cut the wheat because of rain . . . "But after the drought years, we were afraid to complain for fear the Lord would take us seriously."

Only a handful of men in the ranks of Con-slogan of peace and prosperity. If it is peace,

If there is anything to this talk of peace, then ning into the billions annually as a necessary permanent item of government expense. So Congress is becoming restless, obviously deeply disturbed. When the House voted the first time, dent. Mr. Eisenhower got more support from the Democrats than from the members of his mittee's decision to restore $600 millions of the House cut is sustained in the vote in the Senate on the site of the projected 100,000 kw thermal generating plant at Lexington, Central, a matured major power and irrigation district, began construction of the plant as a piece of first aid to the other major Nebraska public power agencies, presently prevented by litigation and other considerations from moving forward with the procurement of needed capacity to keep the state abreast of its electric power needs. With the support of the state REA's Central embarked on its plant building counting on a national 2 per cent REA loan. The loan

REA's rallied as the Dawson group has done. One is grateful to the state's REA's for stepping into the breach. It was a Nebraska-serving act of major import, reflecting a wholesome and public spirited act. But as an example of the tribulations which have been brought down upon public power in Nebraska, by intent or muddy thinking elsewhere, it is one long to remember.

has been postponed. Construction would have been dangerously postponed had not the state

Over the line in the Dakotas, the Missouri Basin program, perhaps the most gigantic the world has seen is moving toward completion. It is a public project. Under policy set down nationally so long ago as 1907 there is a preference governing the publicly generated power from such projects. Under it Nebraska has perferred right to Basin power. During two sessions of Congress Nebraska has tried to obtain a 230 kilowatt transmission line from Fort Randall one of the Basin's producing units, to Grand Island. No luck. A Nebraska power plant producing such capacity will cost some $14 million. The transmission line would require a federal outlay of slightly more than $8 million. The advance would be repaid over a period of years.

The Basin has power to sell. Nebraska has the right to it and the ready market. One may well ask why should Nebraska be forced to resort to heavy and emergency financing to build power plants? Why should the Basin be required to withhold power when it must seek a market? What of Nebraska's rightful share of the Basin power after it has been required to provide for its needs expensively otherwise? It cannot then buy what it cannot use. The preference provision becomes in a practical sense meaningless. The policy becomes voided by timing, Nebraska suffers, the Basin does not gain. The ultimate beneficiary is not making himself known. It just doesn't make sense and is not in character with the historic principle of the great public

Didn't Invent It

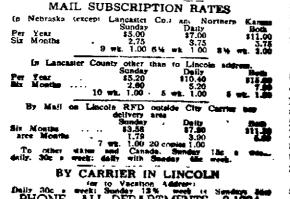

Officials of the 1956 Canadian open golf tournament decided to emphasize world understanding and scored a first. It sent an invitation to Russia. The reply came back saying that since the Russians had no golf courses they had no players and therefore would not be present at the tournament. Well, the cause of international understanding didn't get very far. But we all made a discovery. Golf is one delight the Russians didn't invent. They almost had the market cornered but someone slipped.

Contractors Aid Contract Givers

WASHINGTON - It has been overlooked in the Pentagon feuding, but the Armed Services have found a way to get around budget restrictions on publicity. The Army, Navy, and Air Force simply use their contractors to buy advertising for them.

Connecticut's GOP congressman "Pat" Patterson, a House Armed Services Committee member, has dug up statistics showing that defense contractors spend millions in advertising for the separate serv-

The latest available figures show that Air Force contractors spent $2,348,082 in 1954 to plug the Air Force. Navy contractors spent $1 -351,606 to advertise the Navy, not counting an additional $335,070 on Marine Corps advertising. The Army got the least out of its contractors-only $248,030 worth of

This was the amount of money spent for magazine adviertising alone and does not include other propaganda costs footed by the contractors. For example, Air Force contractors spend millions more to promote the air force through the Air Force Association. Navy contractors also help subsidize the Navy league, which puts out pro-Navy propaganda

The cost of all this propaganda, of course, comes indirectly from the taxpayers through defense contracts. The contractors actually set aside a portion of their defense profits to buy advertising and openly take sides in the Army-Navy-Air Force feuding. As private companies, they are services get the benefit of this indirect publicity without having it charged against their publicity budgets. Congressman Patterson has obtained a confidential breakdown of not restricted by the Pentagon rules against feuding. Thus the ing in 1954. Here are the amounts some of the biggest defense contractors spent in that year:

United Aircraft Corp., $642,833; Borg-Warner Corp., $515,184; Douglas Aircraft Co., $341,803; Boeing Airplane Co., $299,425; General Electric, $258,823; Grumman Aircraft Engine Corp., $227,043; Lockheed Aircraft Corp., $179,531; General Dynamics Corp., $174,425; Bell Telephone, $118,885; General Motors, $121,247; Republic Aviation, $144,725.

Since the bulk of business of several of these companies is from the armed services, they probably didn't need much magazine advertising at all.

5 14 15 GOP-GO-ROUND

One prominent Republican who's grumbling about Ike's physical fitness to run again is Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio - and he's grumbling only in private. Clarence said that the operation was the last straw and Ike-should withdraw from the race ... GOP National Chairman Len Hall is talking and acting as if Ike's ileitis was no more serious than a simple stomach upset. Preparations for the San Francisco convention are going ahead as scheduled. A convention arrangements committee will be in Washington June 22 to make final preparations. It won't so much as consider the possibility of a contest ... at the White House all aides are giving out the same rehearsed line - namely. that Ike took his intestinal condition into consideration when he made his original decision to run; therefore, he should be healthier and more inclined than ever to run. In brief, they argue that Ike is really healthier for having had the operation. There's no explanation for the fact that the President's recent "top-to-toe" medical examination overlooked his stomach ailment which the White House now says Ike knew he had. Pressure Heavy On Jim Hagerty

WASHINGTON-The only contact a light, but the ordeal was over. between President Eisenhower and the world after his September heart attack and his operation last week was a hard-jawed, hard-working Harp named Jim Hagerty. Hagerty's choice of words to depict the condition of the President and the state of the recovery was, in each case, an immensely hard one. He could utter no gray words; only clear-cut black and white ones. Billions of dollars in paper profits were at stake on the stock market. Vast corporations might hesitate to embark on this or that money-spending program because of Hagerty's translation into basic English of the medical obtusions of doctors in attendance. Unemployment was involved. The policies of foreign nations toward us were hanging in subtle balance. A political party that had not had a whiff of the White House since 1932 until Eisenhower made it 20 years later could (and can) only hold its breath and wait with anxiety each new word from Hagerty's lips.

고 술 술 I thought he was especially tough and great at about 5:30 Saturday morning when he barged down to the improvised press room that had been set up in Walter Reed, two decks under the operating room. His champ was still out like

The President had been saved from what might have been a gangrenous attack that could have cost him his life. Jim had sweated out the story and the situation for 24 hours without closing an eye. Jim's eveballs were inflamed and he was punchy from the pressure and the loss of sleep. But he sat down at the long press table and in the most measured way told a hundred news-famished reporters the story. In the middle of it, he said something like, "it was a general anesthetic." A reporter irreverently

"what's general anesthetic's first name?" Jim looked at him for a long moment. There were rings under the bags below the circles beneath his eyes. "Can I go on?" he asked. On another occasion Jim might have sprung at his questioner's jugular. Jim says nobody is going to talk politics to the President. That's for sure. Nobody dared after the September heart attack. Many are of the opinion that Eisenhower would have retired from politics. except to campaign for a Republican successor, if he had not been hit with the heart attack. Now, nobody knows for sure what he will do. And that goes for the man who speaks for him-Hagerty.

Foreign Aid Drive Is Lacking Thrust

WASHINGTON-The purpose of Senate maneuvering on foreign aid is to force President Eisenhower to take full responsibility for whatever amount is approved.

The White House is putting pressure on the Senate to restore all or at least the greater part of the one billion the House cut from the administration bill. Dissatisfaction both with the bill itself and with White House management of it is widespread on both sides of the Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Republican Leader William F. Knowland are not directly co-operating with one another, though that is the net effect. Each is working with senators of his party to put the monkey squarely on the President's back.

They feel amply justified in doing so. In a changing world situation, the President is only continuing along the old paths in foreign aid and asking for more money to do it. ជជាជា

This tactic has decidedly failed to capture public imagination or communicate a sense of urgency to people. Instead, voter complaints are pouring into Congress. The old isolationist sentiment, always latent, is represented, but internationalist senators have warned the White House that there is much more to the problem than that

They warned presidential assistant Sherman Adams early this week that the administration had not made its case for the restoration of the House cuts. When nothing happened, Senator Johnson openly, and Senator Knowland by indirection, began to put this argument before the country.

The President injured his position, too, by his flat refusal to help Senator Alexander Wiley against the Wisconsin isolationist organization at home, which has refused to endorse the senator for re-election.

Mr. Eisenhower did not even add a kind word for Wiley in enunciating his primary neutrality policy. The result is that Wiley's GOP rival, Representative Glenn Davis. who has voted against foreign aid in the House, is helped.

As the heavy House vote for the one billion cut proved, other Republicans feel they have nothing to lose by opposing the President in this area. Democrats, too, are on notice that virtue is its own reward, a noble slogan apt to be honored in the breach during an election year.

Some honestly feel the foreign aid policy is outmoded. Others say the President cannot have it both ways; he cannot campaign on peace and prosperity and let them take the rap at home for high taxes and a bigger foreign aid bill. The current guess on the outcome, unless the President can work a miracle, is for a deep slash in the bill and a close vote. (Copyright, 1856, by UF Syndicate, Inc.)

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The problem of adequately serving the medical needs of 125,-000 Lincoln residents with modern medical facilities and skills is a problem of taking care of Lincoln citizens, rather than "competing with Omaha," as suggested by the letter writer, "Mr. Interested Vo-

Omaha has nine hospitals and two medical schools. Only one of the Omaha medical schools has its own hospital and this hospital does not admit private patients but handles only charity cases admitted by the certification of county welfare workers of Nebraska's 93 counties. Of the other eight, one is not affiliated with any medical school and seven are separate from any medical school except by affiliation for extern, intern and resident instruction.

Lincoln has four hospitals and no medical schools. Of the four, one is not affiliated with any medical school and three are not separated from any medical school except by affiliation for extern. intern and resident instruction.

The three Lincoln hospitals involved in the Lincoln Community Hospital plan occupy identical status with seven of the eight Omaha hospitals handling private patients. Many Lincoln doctors are on the faculties of the two medical colleges, teach in Omaha and teach in Lincoln students sent from Omaha for training in Lincoln hospitals. So if it is true that it is the teaching programs that build medical reputation and attract interns. nurses, and doctors, both Omaha medical schools recognize Lincoln's accredited hospitals to be on an identically equal footing with Omaha's similarly accredited hospitals.

Modern hospital buildings and facilities must have some benefits to patients and physicians because Nebraska alone since the war, $34 million has been spent to improve hospital facilities. Omaha hospitals alone have spent $16 million to benefit patients. Lincoln, which is only one-third smaller than Omaha, has spent about oneeighth, or only $2 million.

Teaching and skilled medical personnel are in shortage and prefer communities where hospital facilities are adequate and modern. Lincoln's ability to give the best care for patients and attract interns, physicians, technical and medical personnel therefore is basically related to its level of medical skills which is in turn related to the adequacy of facilities and equipment that can aid the doctor in aiding the patient.

Lincoln and Omaha for years have had about the same number of doctors per population (14 per 10,000) even though Omaha had two medical schools throughout this period. The greatest beneficiaries of this medical concentration in Lincoln were the people of Lincoln who received the medical protection.

Since Omaha's $16 million hospital improvement and Lincoln's inability to finance the needed hospital improvements required by the three hospitals, postwar population figures show Lincoln has slipped from 14 to 9 doctors per 10,000 population. Lancaster Coun-Medical Society records also show that Lincoln averaged about 11 new doctors a year while 100,-000 in population. Today at 125,-000 population, Lincoln averages only 8 new doctors a year. And this is happening at a time when more doctors are coming into Nebraska than before! A small percentage of the people will always want to go outside of their community for medical care. But the great masses of the community want their medical care at home where they know and can select their own doctor. The cost of medical care at home and the cost of visiting those hospitalized at home is cheaper than out of Lincoln. There are no awayfrom-home or transportation costs. Hospital rates in Lincoln are below other comparable points. The Lincoln wage-earner paid by the hour for the hours actually on the job doesn't have to leave the job or lose pay in order to visit with his family members hospitalized out of town.

There are good reasons-including the element of time and standby availability of facilities for individual and community emergencies-that 125,000 Lincoln residents cannot delegate their medical and hospital care to other communi-

Star: Mr. Crouse asks for an explanation of why the charges and rates at the new proposed medical center will be higher when they have the building, equipment and upkeep paid for out of the pockets of homeowners. We do not know where Mr. Crouse got his information that the hospital costs will be proportionately higher, but with our experience in the everyday operation of hospitals we would like to clarify a few ponts of information for Mr. Crouse. 1. Yes, the initial cost for the construction of the building and the equipment therein will be paid for out of the taxpayer's funds. 2. Hospitals render a complexity of services to the community they serve at their actual cost for providing these services to their users. The primary expenses of operating a hospital are personnel, commodities and services and the maintenance of the physical plant and grounds.

Meeting these costs is the responsibility of the hospital users: the operating organization must develop the charges to meet the costs without profit to anyone. 3. As every businessman knows. the costs of personnel, commodities and services have increased in the past and indications are that they will continue to do so in the future. Regardless of the outcome of the bond proposal, hospital prices in Lincoln (as well as nationwide) are expected to increase approximately five per cent yearly. In the past all Lincoln hospital construction and equipment has been paid for by religious organizations, private contributions and public subscription. You are now being offered the opportunity to participate collectively in the provision of the finest nospital facilities for you and generations to come.

Hospital Occupancy

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A few days ago a local paper carried a letter quoting statistics available from the Division of Hospitals, State Department of Health, as to the need for additional beds and modern hospital facilities. The figures quoted were accurate. The interpretation, we believe, leaves something unsaid.

The figures quoted Lincoln hospitals as operating at approximately 77.4 per cent of occupancy and using that as an indication that no extra beds were needed. The fact is that hospital business is quite seasonal and Nebraska hospitals are no exception. Records obtained from the national level show that in order to work efficiently and at the same time meet all requirements for emergency service, the annual average occupancv of hospitals beds should fall within the following limits:

Expected Occupancy Per Cent Low High Size of Hospital I,ou 60 72 73 73 From the above figures you can see that Lincoln hospitals are operating within the area of expect-

Nebraska and Power

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Your observations that Ohio's Rep. Mike Kirwan has won his point reaffirms a simple truth that "national progress is not a one-way street." Give and take must prevail, if the greatest good is to be accomplished.

That Nebraska delegation, fighting public power for reasons best known to themselves, have in final summation performed a financial disservice for central Nebraska farmers who need cheap and plentiful electric power. However, the elective system

still prevails in Nebraska and if these same farmers feel themselves short-circuited, they may elect candidates pledged to the principles of cheap public power. I wish more Nebraska editors were inclined to appreciate the importance of such vital issues as they affect the daily livelihood of Nebraskans. I hope you will continue to provide Star readers with full facts and figures on the Nebraska Public Power System. Thanks to Norris and Roosevelt, we are enjoying cheap public power in Nebraska, and we want to keep it that way.

"Well, hurry up-I need it!"

State end here today.

Again several hundred young Nebraskans will have had the heady experience of running a youthful replica of the political structure that runs the public affairs of Nebraska. They have elected their governor, introduced and passed legislation, and in their way, by the matters they discussed, they have told the state that which is uppermost in the minds of youththat which is important to the estate of youth.

It was fun. There was a party. Young people like to mingle, too-boys and girls together. But it was in keeping. Good citizenship is not dull and distasteful. Nothing worthwhile is, that is interesting, and citizenship is interesting. That is perhaps the most important discovery these young people will take back home. gress and key members of Ike's team, we assume, know the full facts in connection with this mounting controversy over foreign aid

Certainly the American people are in no position to know whether the President is right in pleading from a hospital room for restoration of the foreign aid money, or on the contrary, if Congress should have a pat on the back for a mounting rebellion against unnecessary White House spending for foreign aid.

There is a lot of money involved even in this age of astronomical budgets. Originally the President's request was for just short of $5

The House, rising up in rebellion with the members of the President's own party providing the chief drive, had cut this $1,200,000,000. Then the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, ear trained upon a plea from the President's sick bed, voted to restore $600 millions which the House had refused.

Any farming region of necessity lives, thinks, and plans fundamentally, and especially is this evident from the beginning of the growing season in early spring until autumn harvest. The soil is here . . . the sun is here . . . What a rural people were thinking of, then, and talking and writing about was the third and perhaps most vital of the growing ingredients . . .

An admirable midwestern quality has always been the sustaining ability to grin and inject a note of humor into discussion, even when worry rides heavy on the shoulders. This might be noted in the rumor relayed by the Polk Progress remember.

that it will be wet just around St. Paul. The Progress did observe on its own, however, what it thought to be a fairly accurate economic indication . . . "One farmer we know has a new fishing tackle box. We admired the strong sturdy box and asked him where he got it. He said it used to be his cash box, but he didn't have much use for a cash box anymore. We has viewed promising clouds that have approached and passed over that community in the past couple of weks, and thinks perhaps "rain-gauge-wise we must be the driest community in the state." In fact, if all the drops of rain that have descended upon them in that period of time were laid end to end, "they wouldn't make a very big puddle of water."

Meantime, water or no water, that blessed season known as the harvest was just around the corner. One or two of the early birds had brought wheat to market—the new crop—always clothed in expectancy- which is to say our gal, Miss Harvest, was beautiful in a robe of hope. We are hopin' that the robe wears well.

A skeptical Hamilton Countian, out where deep-well irrigation is reaching new peaks each year, had doubts that a set of figures issued by experts could be anywhere near a point of accuracy . . . so sat down and calculated to his own satisfaction, and in the doing, out-calculated the experts . . . He had received a statement that farmers use 5,600 gallons of water to produce an average bushel of corn. Deciding that this must be a gross overstatement, he and a friend figured it out, and, using a basis of 100-bushel yield and an estimated average rainfall plus irrigation, their final figure was 6,534 gallons to the bushel. Breaking it down a bit further, it takes about six minutes of pumping to make a bushel of corn, and it takes nearly a barrel of water to the ear. "Looking this over," he marveled, "we figure we're teasing our lawns with a garden hose." And that Hamiltonian can rejoice in a rapid spread of well

> The Basin has power to sell. Nebraska has the right to it and the ready market. One may well ask why should Nebraska be forced to resort to heavy and emergency financing to build power plants? Why should the Basin be required to withhold power when it must seek a market? What of Nebraska's rightful share of the Basin power after it has been required to provide for its needs expensively otherwise? It cannot then buy what it cannot use. The preference provision becomes in a practical sense meaningless. The policy becomes voided by timing, Nebraska suffers, the Basin does not gain. The ultimate beneficiary is not making himself known. It just doesn't make sense and is not in character with the historic principle of the great public

Officials of the 1956 Canadian open golf tournament decided to emphasize world understanding and scored a first. It sent an invitation to Russia. The reply came back saying that since the Russians had no golf courses they had no players and therefore would not be present at the tournament. Well, the cause of international understanding didn't get very far. But we all made a discovery. Golf is one delight the Russians didn't invent. They almost had the market cornered but someone slipped.

Contractors Aid Contract Givers

WASHINGTON - It has been overlooked in the Pentagon feuding, but the Armed Services have found a way to get around budget restrictions on publicity. The Army, Navy, and Air Force simply use their contractors to buy ad-

Connecticut's GOP congressman "Pat" Patterson, a House Armed Services Committee member, has dug up statistics showing that defense contractors spend millions in advertising for the separate serv-

The latest available figures show that Air Force contractors spent $2,348,082 in 1954 to plug the Air Force. Navy contractors spent $1,-351,606 to advertise the Navy, not counting an additional $335,070 on Marine Corps advertising. The Army got the least out of its contractors-only $248,030 worth of advertising.

This was the amount of money spent for magazine adviertising alone and does not include other propaganda costs footed by the contractors. For example, Air Force contractors spend millions more to promote the air force through the Air Force Association. Navy contractors also help subsidize the Navy league, which puts out pro-Navy propaganda.

The cost of all this propaganda, of course, comes indirectly from the taxpayers through defense contracts. The contractors actually set aside a portion of their defense profits to buy advertising and openly take sides in the Army-Navy-Air Force feuding.

As private companies, they are not restricted by the Pentagon rules against feuding. Thus the services get the benefit of this indirect publicity without having it charged against their publicity

Congressman Patterson has obtained a confidential breakdown of how much defense money was spent on armed services advertising in 1954. Here are the amounts some of the biggest defense contractors spent in that year:

United Aircraft Corp., $642,833; Borg-Warner Corp., $515,184; Douglas Aircraft Co., $341,808; Boeing Airplane Co., $299,425; General Electric, $258,823; Grumman Aircraft Engine Corp., $227,043; Lockheed Aircraft Corp., $179,531; General Dynamics Corp., $174,425; Bell Telephone, $118,885; General Motors, $121,247; Republic Aviation, $144,725.

Since the bulk of business of several of these companies is from the armed services, they probably didn't need much magazine advertising at all.

GOP-GO-ROUND

One prominent Republican who's grumbling about Ike's physical fitness to run again is Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio - and he's grumbling only in private. Clarence said that the operation was the last straw and Ike should withdraw from the race ... GOP National Chairman Len Hall is talking and acting as if Ike's ileitis was no more serious than a simple stomach upset. Preparations for the San Francisco convention are going ahead as scheduled. A convention arrangements committee will be in Washington June 22 to make final preparations. It won't so much as consider the possibility of a contest ... at the White House all aides are giving out the same rehearsed line - namely, that Ike took his intestinal condition into consideration when he made his original decision to run; therefore, he should be healthier and more inclined than ever to run. In brief, they argue that Ike is really healthier for having had the operation. There's no explanation for the fact that the President's recent "top-to-toe" medical examination overlooked his stomach ailment which the White House now says Ike knew he had. DORIS FLEESON Foreign Aid Drive Is Lacking Thrust

Senate maneuvering on foreign aid is to force President Eisenhower to take full responsibility for whatever amount is approved.

The White House is putting pressure on the Senate to restore all or at least the greater part of the one billion the House cut from the administration bill. Dissatisfaction both with the bill itself and with White House management of it is widespread on both sides of the Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Republican Leader William F. Knowland are not directly co-operating with one another, though that is the net effect. Each is working with senators of his party to put the monkey squarely on the President's back.

They feel amply justified in doing so. In a changing world situation, the President is only coneign aid and asking for more money to do it.

This tactic has decidedly failed to capture public imagination or communicate a sense of urgency to people. Instead, voter complaints are pouring into Congress. The old isolationist sentiment, always latent, is represented, but internationalist senators have warned the White House that there is much more to the problem than that

They warned presidential assistant Sherman Adams early this week that the administration had

WASHINGTON-The purpose of not made its case for the restoration of the House cuts. When nothing happened, Senator Johnson openly, and Senator Knowland by indirection, began to put this argument before the country.

The President injured his position, too, by his flat refusal to help Senator Alexander Wiley against the Wisconsin isolationist organization at home, which has refused to endorse the senator for re-election.

Mr. Eisenhower did not even add a kind word for Wiley in enunciating his primary neutrality policy. The result is that Wiley's GOP rival, Representative Glenn Davis, who has voted against foreign aid in the House, is helped.

As the heavy House vote for the one billion cut proved, other Republicans feel they have nothing to lose by opposing the President tinuing along the old paths in for- in this area. Democrats, too, are on notice that virtue is its own reward, a noble slogan apt to be honored in the breach during an election year.

Some honestly feel the foreign aid policy is outmoded. Others say the President cannot have it both ways: he cannot campaign on peace and prosperity and let them take the rap at home for high taxes and a bigger foreign aid bill. The current guess on the outcome, unless the President can work a miracle, is for a deep slash in the bill and a close vote. (Copyright, 1956, by UF Syndicate, Inc.)

Hospital Occupancy

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A few days ago a local paper carried a letter quoting statistics available from the Division of Hospitals, State Department of Health, as to the need for additional beds and modern hospital facilities. The figures quoted were accurate. The interpretation, we believe, leaves something unsaid.

The figures quoted Lincoln hospitals as operating at approximately 77.4 per cent of occupancy and using that as an indication that no extra beds were needed. The fact is that hospital business is quite seasonal and Nebraska hospitals are no exception. Records obtained from the national level show that in order to work efficiently and at the same time meet all requirements for emergency service, the annual average occupancy of hospitals beds should fall within the following limits:

Expected Occupancy
Per Cent
Low High Low 60 From the above figures you can see that Lincoln hospitals are operating within the area of expected percentage occupancy but at the upper level of such areas.

The purpose of the proposed Medical Center is to centralize essential diagnostic and treatment services. It is quite obvious that duplication of the more expensive functions cannot be provided. Therefore, if Lincoln is to have such physical facilities, then we must concentrate our resources and our highly specialized physical There is nothing more wasteful than unused talent. At the present time it appears that the obsolescence of our Lincoln hospital facilities does not permit us to take full advantage of the professional capacities of our medical staffs. Thank You VERN A PANGBORN

Nebraska and Power Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Your observations that Ohio's Rep. Mike Kirwan has won his point reaffirms a simple truth that "national progress is not a one-way street." Give and take must prevail, if the greatest good is to be accomplished.

That Nebraska delegation, fighting public power for reasons best known to themselves, have in final summation performed a financial disservice for central Nebraska farmers who need cheap and plentiful electric power. However, the elective system

still prevails in Nebraska and if these same farmers feel themselves short-circuited, they may elect candidates pledged to the principles of cheap public power. I wish more Nebraska editors

were inclined to appreciate the importance of such vital issues as they affect the daily livelihood of Nebraskans. I hope you will continue to provide Star readers with full facts and figures on the Nebraska Public Power System. Thomas Heidrick will serve Mr. Barnard as best man, and seating the guests will be Wayne Reeves and Ersten Dunklau.

The bride will appear in a gown of pure silk in the gardenia tone. Designed with a deep portrait neckline, contoured with re-embroidered Alencon lace, the smooth, slender lines of the longsleeved bodice extend princess fashion into the lavish skirt of candlelight length which is encrusted with handclipped lace applique. A shell hat of pearl dotted lace will hold to the head her veil of illusion, and she will carry a modern colonial bouquet of stephanotis and poufs of tulle.

Mr. Barnard and his bride, following a reception at the Hillcrest Country Club, will leave for a honeymoon in northern Michigan after which they will go to Ann Arbor to reside. For traveling the bride will wear a two-piece ensemble of pale pink, with matching accessories.

The bride is a former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Barnard is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member taffeta petticoats. They will wear of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Due, no doubt, to the current summer weather, vacations seem the main topics of discussion in Park Manor. But in spite of the fact that the coming week will be filled with families leaving for all points east, west north and south, we did find news of a bridge party, youngsters returning from summer camp and newcomers to the neighborhood. First on our list of travelers are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and their children, Pamela, Ricky, Jolene and Barbara who left on Thursday evening, June 14. for Downers Grove, Ill. There, they will be the guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Swen Swenson who will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 17.

This trip has a special meaning for Mrs. Miller who will see her sister, Mrs. Robert Cox of Costa Mesa, Calif., for the first time in two years. Mrs. Cox. after a week's stay in Downers Grove will visit in Lincoln with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

Last Thursday afternoon, June 7, Mrs. W. W. Hudkins entertained eight of her neighbors at a luncheon at her home. The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing bridge.

But, let's return to our list of travelers. On Friday, June 15, Capt. and Mrs. F. E. Hibdon left for Kansas City, Mo., where they will spend the week end visiting with Mrs. Hibdon's mother, Mrs. Anna Spotts, and Capt. Hibdon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.

W. Hyde. We mentioned that we had heard some news about the youngsters in Park Manor best we tell you about that now. Last Monday morning, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Morrison and their children Sharon and Max, left for Polk accompanied by Paula Foster, and Mary Ann and Janey Johns. The children attended the Evangelical Free Bible Camp in Polk for the past week, and this morning Mrs. Dean Foster and Mrs. Howard Johns will go to Polk to accompany the children back to Lincoln.

Our newcomers to Park Manor are M. Sgt. and Mrs. Samuel Parker and their young son, Sammy. The Parkers had formerly been stationed in Spokane, Wash., and are now making their home at 1846 Rivera

We also would like to extend a Park Manor greeting to Capt. and Mrs. Warren Van Houten and their children, Glenn Leslie and Dale, who now are residing at 1740 E. Manor Drive. The Van Houtens are no strangers to Lin-

Lorayne, John and Cathy, of Cuyahoga Falls, O., will be arriving in Lincoln today to spend some time as the house guests of Dr. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fleming.

Mrs. Fleming and her children will come to Lincoln from Columbus where they have been the guests of Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Schacht. Dr. Fleming will join his family in Lincoln a week hence and after a brief stay in Lincoln, he. Mrs. Fleming and the children will go on to Colorado for a summer holiday.

THEN we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thorne have house guests-their daughter, Mrs. Jack Toothaker and her two daughters, Sandy and Stephanie have arrived from McMinnville, Ore., to spend a month in Lin-

During her stay in town Mrs. Toothacker will be honored at numerous courtesies.

AND today is the day that Lt. and Mrs. David Weber (Janet Healey) will come from Malden, Mo., where Lt. Weber has been stationed, to be the house guests of Mrs. Weber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Healey.

On July 10 Lt. Weber will be duty in Japan-Tokyo, to be specific-and Mrs. Weber will join him there in August. In the interim she will remain in Lincoln as the guest of her

BRINGING UP FATHER

Thomson Leads Open; Little Man One Stroke Back

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)-Peter Thomson, a nonchalant precisionist from Australia, shot into the halfway lead of the National Open Golf Tournament with a score of 139 Friday, but breathing hot on his heels one stroke back was the inevitable "Little Man," Ben Hogan.

Qualifiers

Thomson, winner of the British Open title the last two years, came home with the dusk and a second-round 59 some three hours round marked by its steadiness. after Hogan, playing like the mechanical master of old, had assumed first place with a 72-68-140.

This blue ribbon championship hasn't had a foreign winner since the list of qualifiers for the final big, cigar-smoking Ted Ray of two rounds of the National Open Britain turned the trick in 1920. Golf Tournament today (top 50 and But Thomson is a definite threat ties):

tics):

The former champions, Dr. Carey Middlecoff and Ed Furgol, blew their chances for the lead on the two treacherous finishing Joles—Oak Hill's "Heartbreak Bend." They finished two strokes off the pace at 141 with Jerry Barber, 145-pound popball hitter from Los Angeles, and 24-year-old Wesley Ellis, a Texan who gave up medical studies to pursue the golf trail.

Heart Breaking Bogey

Middlecoff took a heart-breakinging triple bogey—7 on the partal 17th hole to finish with a 70 for the second round. Furgol, one under par going to the 17th took a bogev which would have given him a two-stroke advantage.

The almost forgotten defending champion, Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, winner over Hogan in last year's dramatic playoff at San Francisco, wound up with 76-74—150, which failed to qualify him for today's finals.

"I couldn't do it," Jack said dejectedly in the dressing room.

Tied at 142 were the 1952 champion, Julius Boros, tough Ted Kroll, and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., a former amateur champion who is relatively new on the pro circuit.

SPUCC Secretary Cletus Nelson said the resolution asks that $51,-000 be included in the bi-annual budget of the University to provide for expanded irrigation extension service. That figure was listed by the university as the amount needed for five extra men.

The University also outlined a $41,000 plan leaving out the Albion-Norfolk man and a $31,000 plan leaving out both Albion-Norfolk and Box Butte specialists. The resolution pointed out there were 16,000 irrigation wells in Nebraska at the start of this year with 2,887 installed in 1955 and 3.000 estimated this year.

SPUCC directors said upwards of 18 million dollars had been invested this year in new wells. They added that since a "great deal" of money was spent to assist in planning canal irrigation projects, the program should be expanded to give extension service assistance to farmers as they develop pump irrigation.

Total registration for the June 26 special election stood at 49, 244 after the books were closed at 5 p.m. Friday in the office of election commissioner.

Deputy Election Commissioner Pat Boyles estimated that less than half of those registered, some 23,000 persons, would take the trouble to go to the polls and vote on the four propositions to be placed on the ballot.

There is no such similar city and county election in the past that can be used for comparative vote purposes. At the last primary election, in which both city and county voters went to the polls, the vote totaled 17,800.

That election, however, involved no issues but included county, state and national elective offices.

Stock Prices Up In Quiet Trading ahead Friday in the stock market

It was the second session of subdued trading. Thursday the market took a small backward step, and Friday it did a little better than that on the higher side. than that on the higher side.

There wasn't much outstandins in the performance. Some chemicals did well, and a few cement Issues made wide gains. Most major divisions were narrowly mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $181.80. It was down 10 cents Thursday. The industrial component of the average was up 50 cents and rails gained 10 cents while the utilities remained unchanged.

The average now stands at its bighest point in the three-week reaction from the vicinity of the Arril record highs. It has retraced better than a third of the previous loss.

Volume dwindled to 1.550.000 shares as compared with 1.670.000 shares Thursday.

American Stock Exchange was on volume of 580,000 shares as red with 670,000 shares Thorsday. OMAHA FEEDS AND HAY Alfalfa meal: Old crop 17 per cent de-drated, no vitamin A guarantee, 44: 50 lb. hydrated, no vitamin A guarantee, 44: 50 lb.
